VIDART FOURTH TO REACH ROME.

Aviator, in New Aeroplane, Arrived This Morning.

Le Prince Not to be Registered in the Flight to Turin.

ROME, Italy, June 5.—Vidart, the fourth contestant to reach Rome, the end of the second stage of the 1,900-mile Paris-Rome-Turin air race, arrived at 9:16 o'clock this morning. The aviator reached Orbetello about 70 miles from the Italian capital Saturday. On landing he partially wrecked his machine, one wing and a propeller being broken. Vidart secured a new aeroplane and at 7:52 o'clock this morning ascended at Orbetello and flew direct to Rome, arriving there one hour and 33 minutes later.

Le Prince, a French aviator, arrived at Genoa at 5:48 a. m. The weather was magnificent, but the airman postponed his departure for Rome pending instructions from the aviation committee. The Roman committee telegraphically informed Le Prince that his passage over the Italian stage of the race would not be registered, as he was not regularly entered in the contest. Le Prince only asked that chronometer registration of his arrivals and departures along the route be taken.

GAMBLING FOREMOST QUESTION.

Principal Issue Before Narragansett Voters the Opening of a Club.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, June 5.—The gambling question was uppermost in the minds of the voters of this town, at the annual election here today, as the principal issue was the question of allowing a man from outside the town to open up a gambling club here. Tomorrow the interest of the gamblers and the anti-gambling interest element will be focussed on the West Kingston election, where the openly declared issue is the re-appointment of Constable John G. Cross, the young Harvard man who last summer broke up the fashionable Narragansett Club and secured indictments against William E. (Doc) Arnold, and T. J. McKenna of New York, the alleged proprietors.

For months work of improvement has been going on in a building adjoining the one which housed the Narragansett Club and it is generally understood that the place is being fitted up as a gambling club by a Providence man well known in the sporting fraternity. The present town council is Republican but two of the members are running on the Democratic ticket. It is understood that should the Democrats win, a new chief of police to succeed James D. Caswell, who has been twice arrested and acquitted for alleged malfeasance in office, will be appointed and the new comer will be welcomed.

STILL NO CHOICE.

Renewal of Effort to Elect President Pro Tem to Succeed Frye.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—In the absence of Vice President Sherman the Senate was called to order today by Secretary Bennett, and for the first time in ten days there was a renewal of the effort to elect a president pro tem to succeed Senator Frye. After two ineffectual ballots the Senate adjourned for the day without transacting any business.

There was no choice change in the relative standing of the candidates. On the first ballot Senator Gallinger, regular Republican, received 27 votes, Senator Bacon, Democratic, 25, and Senator Clapp, progressive Republican, 7. On the second ballot Messrs. Bacon and Clapp each gained a vote due to entrance of Senators who had been absent during the first roll call. The progressive Republicans generally joined with the regulars in forcing an adjournment until 2 p. m. tomorrow.

NO CURTAILMENT ANTICIPATED.

Atlantic Worsted Mills in Olneyville Resume Operations.

PROVIDENCE, June 5.—After a shut down of ten days the Atlantic Worsted Mills of Olneyville resumed operations today, with practically its full force of 3,500 employes. The mill suspended because of unsatisfactory business conditions but no further curtailment is anticipated now.

COLONEL GARRARD REPROVED.

Officer Reports Adversely on Application of Solider for Promotion.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Colonel Joseph Garrard, U. S. A., commanding the cavalry post at Fort Myer, Va., today was reprimanded by the Secretary of War, under orders from President Taft, for reporting adversely on an application of a soldier for the right to take examinations for promotion to commissioned grade, on the ground of Jewish parentage. The President said it was hard to deal with the matter "with patience and without condemnatory words that had better not be written."

WEATHER PREVENTS POLO GAME

Second Struggle Between Englishmen and American Postponed.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The international polo game scheduled for today was postponed on account of wet weather. The game will be played tomorrow. Interest in the match had increased perceptibly since last week and the demand for reservations on the field exceeded its capacity, while good locations were at a premium.

Betting still favored the Americans with odds of 3 to 2 or 5 to 3. No long shots were offered after the score of the first match.

THE D'ESTREES ASHORE.

French Cruiser, Aground, Near Halifax Harbor, Floated.

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, June 5.—French cruiser D'Estrees went ashore on the south side of George's island, while entering Halifax harbor in a thick fog today, but was floated at high tide this afternoon, apparently undamaged. She anchored in the harbor.

ST. GEORGE'S BOYS CELEBRATE.

The students of St. George's School had a notable celebration Saturday, on the return of the base ball team from Boston, in honor of their victory over Middlesex in the final game of the season. The celebration took the form of a promenade around a bonfire on the campus. After rockets had been sent into the air from a tower built of old boxes, the timber was lighted, producing a blaze of light which illuminated the entire field. The victorious team was met at the creek near Easton's beach and escorted home with drum and fife music and much singing and cheering.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary H. Richmond Hopkins took place Sunday morning in the Old cemetery, Revl E. H. Porter, D. D., reading the committal service. The body was brought here from Montclair, N. J.

A funeral service for Charles E. Peck was conducted at Marsh's undertaking rooms this afternoon by Rev. W. H. Reed, the interment was in the Braman cemetery and the bearers were from Boyer Lodge, A. F. and A. M., which had charge of the funeral. Mrs. Hankins, sister of the deceased and a member of Atlantic City Lodge of Masons, accompanied the body from Atlantic City whence it arrived this morning.

RESISTING THE TRAFFIC ORDINANCE.

Officer Coggeshall met opposition to enforcement of the traffic law Saturday afternoon, from a business man one of whose teams lingered in front of the store for some time, headed the wrong way. The officer called attention to the fact, whereupon the proprietor said that if the law was any good he might bring a case against him. The officer went to the station for a witness, and when two officers arrived the team had been turned around.

It still has the appearance of but one officer trying to enforce the ordinance and already there is talk among citizens about this law being a farce, like many others. It seems to be generally admitted that it is full time for the appearance of the printed slips.

SAUNDERS FERRY IN BANKRUPTCY.

Proceedings on Petition of Newport Creditors.

Claims for Merchandise and Labor and on Promissory Notes.

(Special despatch to The News.)

PROVIDENCE, June 5.—On a petition of Nell C. Pelrson, Gilbert H. Burnham, Dudley P. Bachellor, the Newport Engineering Works, and the A. & H. G. Hammett Company, all of Newport, the Narragansett Transportation Company of North Kingstown is involved in bankruptcy proceedings in the United States district court in Providence. Pelrson has a claim of $354.65, for merchandise sold and delivered and for labor; Burnham's claim is for $255, on a promissory note; Bachellor claims $76.96 for merchandise and labor, the Newport Engineering Works $363.93 for merchandise sold and the A. & H. G. Hammett Company presents two claims, amounting to $413.27, both on promissory notes. The Narragansett Transportation Company has been ordered to appear June 12 in the United States district court before Judge A. L. Brown and show cause why it should not be adjudged bankrupt.

The Narragansett Transportation Company is better known here as the Saunders Ferry Company, which it was understood was to be taken over by the Jamestown & Newport Ferry Company. In accordance with an agreement made to consolidate the two lines, Ferryboat Newport, which belonged to the line, was recently reported from Portsmouth as sold to go to St. John, New Brunswick, and had started on her way, she is now tied up at New Bedford, having, it is reported, been libelled by some creditor on her way to her new port.

AUTOMOBILE DAMAGED.

Sailor Knocked Out When a Big Drag Collides With It on Thames Street.

There was a narrow escape from a serious accident in front of The News building just after 10 o'clock Saturday night. Mr. George H. Carr's automobile had just drawn up, close to the curb, in front of his door, the south one in the building, and his son had gone into the store, the power being shut off. The big drag Newport Belle, owned by Mr. Benjamin Deaton, was near the corner of Mill street. It is said that the reins were caught under the shaft, but the driver, said to be only 17 years old, was on the seat when the horses ran away. The street was crowded with pedestrians and not a few vehicles at the time.

The big drag was drawn in the runaway as far as The News building, where it struck the automobile, smashing a light and the front and left side of the machine and pushing it from its place, close to the curb, on the sidewalk and right up to the centre door in The News building, leading up stairs, the door jamb being marked where the automobile hit it. Then the horses dashed up the street and ran into a runabout owned by Mr. Carroll Walker, upset it, throwing out the two men in it, smashing a wheel and a shaft and running over the horse, which was knocked down. Then Officer I. J. Barker stopped the horses.

Inspector Tobin blew his whistle and Sergeant Conroy and several officers were on hand in almost no time as were apparently about 1,000 people. No one knew just what had happened, but one crowd gathered about the automobile and one about the runabout. Inspector Tobin looked under the automobile and found a sailor boy knocked out so completely that at first it was feared he was dead. The ambulance was called and the injured man, James McNeils of the Michigan, was rushed to the hospital, where he later came to consciousness. He did not know what had happened. He was passing north by Mr. Carr's store when the was struck, and saw nothing until he was at the hospital. Early Sunday morning an officer and men came from the ship and found that he was able to go on board without assistance.

The two men in the runabout also suffered considerably from being thrown out and one complained of a badly hurt arm.

A spectator says that if Mr. Carr's automobile had not been hit the runaway drag would have struck Mrs. Wood's automobile, standing in front of Herrmann's store. Mrs. Wood was in the car at the time.

Every one who saw where Mr. Carr's automobile was forced is at a loss to understand how it could possibly have been pushed into the recessed doorway, which bears the marks of contact with the machine. Mr. Carr's car will need considerable repairs, as it was badly damaged.

WON A FORTUNE ON SUNSTAR.

G. B. Joel, owner of Sunstar, the Derby winner, won $150,000 on the race. He was not the largest winner, however, for Dr. Bolton, Trinidad's agent to engage coolies in Calcutta, drew Sunstar in the Calcutta Turf Club's sweepstakes and won nearly $350,000.

The second prize in the sweepstakes, $170,000, was won by Mr. Auberry, master of the Warrington Workhouse, whose salary is $2,000 a year. Stedfast ran in the place, but Mr. Auberry had sold a half-share in the ticket for $5,000.

The tickets in the sweepstakes cost $3.25 each.

It is known that several big bookmakers had to borrow money to settle because of the plunge on Sunstar. They lost $5,000,000 on the races, it is said.

MRS. ASTOR TO LIVE IN PHILADELPHIA.

Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, former wife of Colonel John Jacob Astor, will soon leave London and take up her residence, for a time at least, in Philadelphia. Her brother, Mr. J. R. Barton Willing, has given orders that the old Willing homestead, South Broad street, be re-opened, renovated and prepared for the arrival of Mrs. Astor. Mrs. Astor is reported to have said that she is tired of English society.

BOTH TEAMS BLANKED.

Father Mathew Beaten by Trojans and Galahad by Adams, in City League.

Rogers Wins at Fairhaven, St. George's from Middlesex and Montgomery from Training Station.

Two base ball games were played Saturday in the City League, and each was a shutout victory, the Trojans defeating the Father Mathew team, 10 to 0, and Fort Adams blanking the Galahads, 3 to 0. The latter score looks the better but the first game was more interesting, even if the score did seem one-sided. The attendance was fair but not so good as it might have been, considering the good ball the City League is furnishing. Those who missed the double-header Saturday have something to regret, for the exhibitions were worth seeing, even though they were shutouts.

The Trojans and Father Mathews began the first game only 10 minutes late. This we're doing pretty well, but at that the Tabs put a substitute in the field. One great trouble of the league has been to have a full team on hand at the appointed time and the record of Saturday is perhaps the best of any day. The second game began only 13 minutes late, and that too was started with a substitute.

Dunn started to pitch for the Father Mathew team, but seemed ineffective. However, he was lucky for a while and then gave way to Burns. The Trojans were out to win, however, and played all around the Tabs. Sacrifice hits and stolen bases contributed materially to their win, they having seven sacrifice and 12 stolen bases to none by the Tabs. The Trojans did not bat hard, making only eight hits to four by the losers. The play was clean and there were few errors and no dumb plays to make one feel weary. Sheehan pitched effectively when called upon to do so and Carr's catching was sharp, so that the Tab base runners were kept close to their bases and had no chance to venture on base stealing. The score:

The second game promised to be a sacrifice of the Galahads, for they were slow in putting in an appearance and the Fort Adams team did some great work in practice before the game, seeming to have a cinch. Finally the game started, with only one substitute in the Galahad make-up. De Blois, the new pitcher of the team, proved to be an enigma to the Forts, who, however, proceeded to do the best they could with the few safe drives allowed them, and with the help of sacrifice hits and two errors rolled up three runs in the first three innings. This was enough to win. The hitting was about even, the soldiers making six safe ones and Galahad five. The Galahad hits, however, scattered, though they made two in the fifth with two strikeouts between them. In the seventh Edwards made a star stop off Landis's hard drive, which made even the Fort rooters take notice. There were some poor plays by the Galahads during the game, but the effective pitching of De Blois neutralized most of this and held down the scoring-hitting Fort team to six hits and three runs, a great showing. The score:

Fort Adams.

The Rogers High School team returned to Newport Saturday evening with a victory against Fairhaven College, Rogers won 6-2, which did not equal the expectations of the high school supporters, as Rogers had defeated the same team 16-3 in a seven-inning game. Fairhaven showed a good deal of improvement and their pitcher, Riley, was sparely hit. His delivery was very slow and the Newporters, who have been used to batting against swift pitchers, swung too hard at the ball and often missed it.

Rogers presented a weak team, three of the heavy hitters not going

SEDERQUIST TRIAL FAILS.

Jury Disagrees in Case of Accused Boston Brokerage Firm.

BOSTON, June 3.—After a trial lasting 13 weeks, in which charges alleging the larceny of nearly $1,000,000 from their customers were heard, the jury in the superior criminal court late today reported a disagreement in the case of three of the members of the brokerage firm of Sederquist, Barry & Co., Messrs. Arthur B. Sederquist, D. Eustace Bigelow and John E. Barry.

Earlier in the day the jury reported that it had found Harry F. Curtis, a fourth member of the firm, not guilty on the two counts with which he had been charged. Arthur B. Sederquist was also cleared on the same two counts, which had to do with the transactions of the firm with Emma M. Hitchborn of Maine.

The jury deliberated on the charges 24 hours. While the original indictment named 102 counts, evidence on but 52 was given to the jury. When the disagreement was finally reported Judge Jenney discharged the jury. It was reported that the jury was evenly divided on acquittal and conviction.

The accusations against the firm were made shortly after its failure in May, 1909, and during the trial a monumental amount of evidence in the form of stock books, ledgers and other counting room records filled the courtroom.

The cost of the trial to the county is estimated at $70,000, while the cost to the four defendants is believed to amount to more than $25,000.

A TREACHEROUS TROUBLE.

Newport People Are Shown the Way Out.

Kidney diseases are very dangerous. They come on silently, gain ground rapidly, and cause thousands of deaths that could have been prevented by proper treatment in the beginning. Nature gives early warnings of kidney disease—backache, twinges of pain when stooping or lifting, headaches, and urinary disorders if these symptoms are unheeded, there is grave danger of dropsy or fatal Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills have earned a reputation for their effectiveness in kidney troubles, and are known and recommended the world over. Newport readers should find convincing proof in the following statement. It's from a citizen of this locality.

John Holmes, 220 Thames St., Bristol, R. I., says: "For several years I had attacks of kidney complaint. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, particularly at night, and I was also annoyed by pains across the small of my back and hips. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills and the contents of a few boxes brought relief. I cannot recommend this remedy too highly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

on the trip, but even this afforded little excuse for the listless and half-hearted way they played. Had the Fairhaven team been as good as the average, Rogers would have been defeated. It is true that Rogers made only one error, but for all that the playing of the high school boys was nothing to boast about.

Sayer was in the box and tried for a shut-out, but was scored on twice. He was over-confident, as was all the team, and took things easy. He was hit safely seven times, but only in the seventh did the hits result in runs. Rogers connected for six singles and two two-baggers, but had 10 strikeouts against them.

During the first three innings each team obtained one hit and that ended it. In the fourth Underwood popped up an easy fly to short stop, who dropped it and Underwood was safe. Martin gave the ball a long drive to deep centre, gaining second base, and Underwood scored. A two-bagger hit by Wilks, followed by a single by Underwood, increased the score by one run in the sixth, and four in the seventh ended the scoring for Rogers. Four singles and a base on balls did the trick, but in the next two innings Rogers died easily.

Fairhaven did all its scoring in the seventh inning. Hoy went out, Sayer to Eddy. Demers hit a terrific liner which was foul, but Sayer became alarmed and walked him. Fitzpatrick hit safely to left field. Meanwhile a boy with a cowbell took his place on the base line and began ringing the bell and Sayer's balloon went up. An easy grounder came to him and he threw to Eddy, but Eddy was nervous and dropped it. Meanwhile Demers scored and the bell continued to ring. Watson met the ball for another single, and Fitzpatrick came in. This was more than Sayer could stand. Running to the plate, he snatched the bell away from the boy and threw it away. The players on both teams ran in, but finally everybody calmed down. Sayer regained his composure and the next two men went out easily.

Fitzpatrick was the star for the home team, shining with three hits and four putouts. Hoy also played a good game at bird. For Rogers Martin, Wilks and Underwood did good work at the bat, while Cottrell showed well in the field. The summary:

The St. George's School team, accompanied by a large number of students, went to Concord, Mass., Saturday to play the annual game with Middlesex School, and came home with another added to the string of victories against Massachusetts school teams. The game was well played by both sides, each making only one error. Swain, who pitched for St. George's, allowed only four hits, gave one base on balls and struck out eight. Wright for Middlesex allowed five hits, gave two bases on balls and struck out nine. Two of St. George's five hits were three-baggers, by Edgar and Bush, which counted materially in the score. Hoskier caught well for St. George's, having eight put outs and four assists. A feature of the game was a double play in which Deming at bird for St. George's participated at both ends, with Bush at first in the centre. The score is as follows:

The score was 5-4, Montgomery wins. Such in brief was the big naval game between the Training Station and the Montgomery team, their first meeting of the season. There was a large attendance of sailors, but not many officials. The order preserved was characteristic of a good naval game. There were no spectators in the playing field and at no time was there apprehension of outsiders being hurt by a fast play. There was no wrangling, plenty of supportive coaching from grand stand and bleachers, life in every inning, and that never say die expression on both teams which means that either is likely to win out at any time.

The Montgomery boys seemed to be in the game from the very start, while Brown was still unsettled, and in the first half of the first inning the former scored three times on a hit, a sacrifice, an error and three steals. They added another in the second on two hits and an error, and again in the third on a fly, steal, wild throw and passed ball. It looked like a cinch. Then Brown tightened up and the ship's team had to show uphill the eighth, when they made two hits. Townsend took too long a lead off first after opening with a safe drive and was caught.

It was the fifth before the Training Station showed a consistent attack. With four hits, a sacrifice, base on balls and two steals they rolled up three runs and looked dangerous. They added another in the eighth on a single and double, but a double play cut them short. Again in the ninth it looked like a rally, but another double play dashed their hopes and Montgomery had won a well played game.

The fielding of the Montgomery team was sharp, clean and fast. On the bases they showed speed. They, however, made hay while the sun was shining, as had Brown started to pitch his usual game they might have had the short end of the game. It showed how necessary it is to take advantage of everything. They took it, and then played close, holding their opponents by good pitching and fine fielding. The score:

Saturday the Narragansett Stars defeated the Newport Midgets by the score of 7-5. The batteries for the Stars were Haire, Doyle and Girard, and for the Midgets Shreenan, Dwyer and Sullivan.

The nine from the Michigan defeated the Trojans, 3 to 2, in a closely played game.

It was with feelings of regret that it is again announced that the Daily News team, or a part of it, fell victims to the Norcross Bros., team by the rather close score of 11 to 9.

The next game in the City League will be Tuesday afternoon, between the Trojans and the Young Men's Christian Association.

SILFIELD LILLIE A WINNER.

In the Plainfield, N. J., horse show Saturday Mr. Reginald C. Vanderbilt's Silfield Lillie won the first prize in the class for heavy harness horses, not exceeding 15.2 hands, defeating Mrs. C. Cecil Fitler's Sporting Extra. In the class for women's phaeton horse, women to drive, these positions were reversed, Sporting Extra taking the first and Silfield Lillie the second. Silfield Lillie was bred at Sandy Point Farm and is the four-year-old daughter of Silfield Venus and Tiger Lillie, horses which have won prizes in the show ring for Mr. Vanderbilt and are now retired.

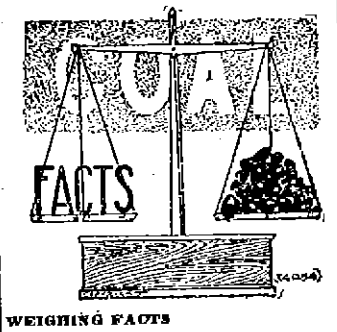

PERSONALS.

....The Marys of the British empire have given Queen Mary a purse of $60,000. The donors are said to range "from beggar maids to duchesses."

....The estate of David H. Moffat of Denver, railroad builder and financier, who died in New York some time ago, amounts to $9,767,114, not including mining stocks and mining property estimated to be worth $5,500,000.

....Morton F. Plant of New London, has made a conditional offer of a gift of $1,000,000 to the woman's college which is to be established at New London and to be known as Thames College. The conditions are, it is understood, that the name be changed to Connecticut College and that the college raise another $1,000,000.

....Some one found that the clock in the steeple of the First Congregational Church of Suffield, Conn., was not striking, on orders of Rev. Mr. Kennedy, the pastor, as it disturbed the sleep of his two small children. Forthwith a communication was sent to the church committee asking that the striking apparatus be wound up. If this is done Mr. Kennedy says he will resign as pastor.

MOTHERS.

[Edwin L. Sabin, in National Magazine.]

Mothers are the queerest things
'Member when Jesse went away,
All but mother cried and cried
When they said good-bye that day.
She just talked, and seemed to be
Not the slightest bit upset—
Was the only one who smiled
Others' eyes were streaming wet!

But when John come back again
On a furlough, safe and sound,
With a medal for his deeds,
And without a single wound,
While the rest of us hurrahed,
Laughed and joked and danced about,
Mother kissed him, then she cried—
Cried and cried like all git out!

ORDINANCES.

AN ORDINANCE RELATIVE TO STREETS, SIDEWALKS AND HIGHWAYS IN THE CITY OF NEWPORT, AND VEHICLES AND TRAVEL THEREIN OR THEREON.

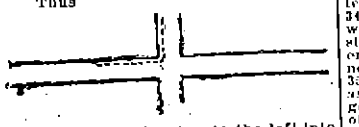

It is ordained by the Representative Council of the City of Newport as follows:—

Section 1. Regulation of streets, sidewalks and highways in the City of Newport, and vehicles and travel therein or thereon are hereby established as follows:—

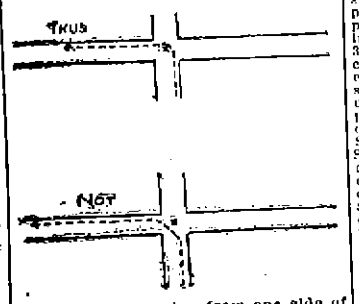

Vehicles in Motion.

1. A vehicle, except when passing a vehicle ahead, shall keep to the right and as near the right curb as possible.
2. A vehicle meeting another vehicle shall pass on the right.
3. A vehicle overtaking another vehicle shall, in passing, keep to the left, but it shall not leave the line on the right unless there is a clear way of at least fifty feet in advance on the left. This regulation shall apply to vehicles passing a street car which has stopped to take on or allow passengers to alight.
4. A vehicle in turning to the right into another street shall keep as near as possible to the right curb.

Thus

5. A vehicle in turning to the left into another street shall, so far as the vehicle will permit, pass to the right and beyond the centre of the intersecting street before turning.

6. A vehicle crossing from one side of the street to the other shall do so by turning to the left, and shall head in the general direction of traffic on that side of the street.

7. Slow moving vehicles shall keep as close to the curb on the right as possible, so as to allow faster moving vehicles free passage on the left.
8. No person having charge of a vehicle shall allow the same to come within ten feet of any vehicle in front of him when approaching and passing over a crossing where a pedestrian is about to pass.
9. No person shall drive, guide or have the care of two or more horses harnessed, respectively, to different vehicles.
10. No person shall ride, drive or cause to be driven any horse or vehicle over that part of any street which is being mended, repaired or paved, of any part of such street, if whole is closed to travel.

Signals.

11. Every driver of a vehicle shall, in slowing up or stopping, give a signal to those behind by raising a whip or hand.
12. In turning while in motion, or in starting to turn from a standstill, a signal shall be given by the driver of the vehicle about to be turned by raising a whip or hand, indicating the direction in which the turn is to be made.
13. Before backing ample warning shall be given by voice or uplifted hand, and while backing unceasing vigilance must be exercised by the driver so as not to injure those behind.
14. At all times drivers of vehicles must stop the same on a signal from a police officer in uniform, or if not in uniform upon said police officer displaying his badge.

Right of Way.

15. Fire department, police, ambulance and United States mail vehicles shall have the right of way through any street and through any procession.
16. The driver of any vehicle proceeding on the track in front of a street car shall, as soon as possible, turn out on a signal by the motorman or conductor of the car.
17. A vehicle waiting at the curb shall promptly give place to a vehicle about to take on or let off passengers.

Speed of Vehicles.

18. No vehicle shall proceed at a rate of speed greater than the law allows; and at no time shall a vehicle be driven with a reckless or negligent disregard of the condition then obtaining and the rights of others.
19. On approaching a crossing of intersecting streets, also in traversing a crossing of an intersection of streets, and in going around a corner or curve in the highway, a vehicle shall not be driven at a rate of speed other than that which is reasonable and proper, having regard to traffic at the time and place, and the use of the way and the safety of the public.

Stopping, standing and turning.

20. No vehicle shall stop with its left side to the curb.
21. Unless in an emergency or to allow another vehicle or a pedestrian to cross its way, no vehicle shall stop in any public street except close to the curb.
22. No vehicle shall stop or stand within the intersection of any street, nor within ten feet of a street corner, nor on any cross walk, except in case of emergency or when directed to do so by a police officer in uniform, or if not in uniform upon said police officer displaying his badge.
23. A person having charge of a vehicle shall not stop the same abreast of or opposite another vehicle lengthwise of a street in any street, except in case of accident or emergency.
24. No person having charge of a vehicle shall place the same in any street so as to prevent or obstruct the passing of other vehicles or surface cars, unless for a reasonable time when necessary.
25. No driver or person having charge of a vehicle in a street shall refuse or neglect to stop the same when, and as, directed by a police officer in uniform, or if not in uniform upon said police officer displaying his badge, any of these regulations to the contrary notwithstanding.
26. No vehicle incapable of being turned about without backing shall be turned about on Thames Street, between Touro Street and the Post Office.
27. When a horse drawn vehicle is backed up to the curb, the horse or horses shall be turned to stand, so far as the vehicle will permit, parallel with the sidewalk and headed in the general direction of travel for the side of the street on which the vehicle is standing.
28. No horse shall be left unattended for a longer period than ten minutes in any street unless he is securely fastened by being tied to a post or weight, or unless one or more of the wheels of the vehicle to which he is harnessed are securely tied, fastened or chained, and the vehicle is of sufficient weight to prevent its being dragged at dangerous speed with the wheels so secured.
29. No horse or vehicle shall be driven, backed, led, moved, trundled or allowed to stand on any sidewalk, except for the purpose of crossing the same when necessary, and then only in the shortest way from the street to the abutting estate.
30. Every driver or person having charge of any horse or vehicle on a street shall remove the same to another place on such street or from such street to some other street whenever directed so to do by any police officer in uniform, or if not in uniform upon said police officer displaying his badge; and in case of neglect or refusal after such direction any police officer may remove the same to and leave the same in such other place or other street.
31. Any police officer in uniform, or if not in uniform upon said police officer displaying his badge, in his discretion, may remove any horse or horses, vehicle or vehicles, left upon any street out in the apparent charge of any driver or other person, or in violation of any of these regulations, to another place on such street, or from such street to some other street, or to the city yard, and there leave the same.
32. No person owning, possessing or having the care of any cart, coach, dray, sleigh, sled, carriage or motor vehicle of any description shall store or permit the same to remain unemployed and out of use in or on Thames Street, between Touro Street and Franklin street, except temporarily in case of emergency, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 6 P. M.
33. No vehicle shall, from the fifteenth day of June to the fifteenth day of October, in any year, turn, or attempt to turn on Bellevue Avenue, in this city, between the south side of Bath Road and the north side of Memorial Street, nor between the north side of Pelham Street and the intersection of Touro Street with Bellevue avenue, but, in such cases such vehicles shall proceed in the direction in which they are going to the point hereinbefore mentioned before turning or attempting to turn.
34. No one shall so load a vehicle with iron or other material that may strike together without properly deadening it so that it will cause no unnecessary noise.
35. No one shall crack or so use a whip as to annoy, interfere with, or endanger any person or excite any horse other than the one he is leading or driving.
36. No person shall enter, go upon, ride upon, cling to or support himself, wholly or in part, upon any vehicle or part thereof while such vehicle is standing upon or passing over any part of any street without the express permission of the owner or the person in charge of such vehicle.
37. No parade or procession shall occupy or march on any street to the exclusion or interruption of other persons in their individual rights and the use thereof, except police and fire departments, the organized militia, the organized naval forces of the United States, military forces of the United States, the independent chartered forces, associations wholly composed of soldiers, sailors or marines honorably discharged from the service of the United States, veterans of the national guard or naval militia, and organizations of the order of Sons of Veterans, unless written notice of the object, time and route of such procession or parade be given by the chief officer thereof not less than twenty four hours previous to its forming or marching to the Chief of Police of this city, and said Chief of Police may designate how much of the street or streets in width and what portion thereof such procession or parade can occupy, with especial reference to crowded thoroughfares through which such procession or parade may move, and when so designated, the chief officer of such procession or parade shall be responsible that the designation is obeyed.

Definitions.

38. The word "vehicle" herein shall include horses ridden or led, motor vehicles, horses ridden or led, motor vehicles of all kinds, bicycles, tricycles and everything on wheels or runners except street cars and baby carriages, so called.
39. The word "driver" herein shall include the rider or driver of a horse, the rider of wheels, and the operator of a motor vehicle.

Duty and Penalty.

40. Every driver and person in charge or control of a horse or vehicle shall obey and cause these regulations to be obeyed. Whoever violates any of the provisions of the aforegoing regulations shall be punished by a fine not less than five dollars nor more than twenty dollars for each offense.
Section 2. This ordinance shall take effect upon its passage. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.

THE DEMOCRATIC WOOL DUTIES.

In considering the proposition of the Democrats of the House to reduce wool duties from over 41 to 20 per cent it is important to remember that high duties maintained for 44 years, except during three years of the Wilson tariff, have not prevented a continuous decline of wool growing in all the eastern part of the country and the middle West. In some of these states sheep raising has been stimulated by the demand of the large cities for mutton, but in most of them even this has not kept up the flocks. On the other hand in the northern Rocky Mountain states, where most of the wool is produced, the number of sheep increased during the period of free wool, combined with a great depression in business. Speaking generally, where population is dense, general agriculture flourishes and land prices are high, even the highest duties will not make wool growing profitable; where population is sparse, land is cheap and there is little encouragement for general agriculture, wool will be grown without any duty. Therefore the proposition of the Underwood bill is not revolutionary.

Cheap wool is a benefit to the manufacturers and when the Dingley bill was in process of preparation William Wood, now president of the American Woolen Company, urged an ad valorem duty in the interest of the consumers. He expressed a preference for the Wilson schedule of free wool and low duties on manufactures rather than the schedule insisted upon by the flock masters.

In regard to the proposed duties on fabrics, with a reduction of more than half of the duty on wool, the manufacturers can stand a considerable reduction on their products, but perhaps not so much as the Underwood bill proposes. These duties are rather lower than those of the Wilson tariff, which removed the whole duty from wool. Yet, as most of the difference between the cost of woolens here and in Europe is the difference in the cost of wool, taking off more than one half of the duty may enable the manufacturers to do well with the proposed duties. When the American Woolen Company was selling its stocks it represented that the business was little dependent upon protection.

PRICE REGULATION BY THE GOVERNMENT.

The world is making economic changes so fast that it is hard to keep up with them. It may be that persons are now living who will see the government regulating the prices of merchandise as it is now regulating the prices of transportation, and as municipalities regulate cab charges and sometimes regulate the price of bread.

Some months ago, in the Atlantic Monthly, Brooks Adams argued that the world has been through the era of competition and is emerging therefrom, but as the community cannot afford to have prices regulated entirely by the manufacturer or seller, who would be pretty certain to make his prices high if he had no competition to face, it would be necessary for the government to regulate prices. That was a startling doctrine which was easily disregarded as the conclusions of a theorist. Yet that is precisely what Mr. Gary, head of the steel trust, told the Stanley investigating committee. He admits that competition in iron and steel is nearly suppressed and looks forward to its complete suppression, and then expects the government to fix prices, or at least to determine the maximum prices.

Although Congress was not entirely consistent in its provisions in the interstate commerce law, the main purpose of that was to recognize that competition no longer determined railroad charges, and therefore they must be regulated by an agency of the government. That was 21 years ago. Twenty-one years ago Congress attempted to deal with combinations of industrials, as it had dealt with combinations of railroads, but believing that competition could still be forced it prohibited combinations which should restrain trade by suppressing competition and establishing monopolies. It has not yet made much progress in forcing competition, even by judicial interpretation of the law and decrees of dissolution of combinations. Perhaps it cannot succeed in compelling competition. It is significant that Adams and Gary agree that it cannot and that prices must be regulated by the government, like railroad charges.

CITIES AS BUSINESS CORPORATIONS.

It was evident at the last meeting of the National Municipal League that the cities of this country are gradually tending toward the same goal with many in European lands, in developing into business corporations. Across the ocean for some years there have been municipalities which control and direct all municipal enterprises, such as water, gas and electric light supply and the running of railroads, as successfully as the same kinds of business are transacted by private corporations. This country has been slow to adopt that practice, but it is now becoming common for cities to manage all their departments of this sort in the same way they direct those which have always been considered a legitimate part of the work of a municipality. In Europe some cities go still farther and acquire land either covered with forests or suitable for cultivation and manage it so wisely that the citizens pay no taxes, the revenue from this land being sufficient to cover all the expenses of the municipal government. This seems almost incredible to those who live in this country, but is not unusual in some parts of Europe.

It may not be possible for every municipality to own land and so manage it as to make enough money from it to render taxes unnecessary, but there are not a few communities where this might be possible. There is plenty of forest land not far from almost any city which might be cultivated and developed in such a manner as to become an important source of municipal revenue and there is in the vicinity of most places land which could be purchased by the municipalities and rented or cultivated, and thus made richly remunerative. If it is possible for foreign cities to manage their affairs in such a way as to give freedom from taxation there is no good reason why it should not be possible in this country as well—not generally perhaps, for that is not the case abroad, but in instances of exceptionally favorable location. It would be interesting to see the experiment tried in some communities where there is available land close at hand.

COLLEGE CIVIC CLUBS.

An interesting feature of modern college life is the existence in many institutions of civic clubs, whose object is to provide means for the students to observe civic life and aid in any practical and suitable way in forwarding the interests of the community in which they are located. These civic clubs are not exactly a new thing in colleges, but they are now doing a rather different work from that which they undertook when they first appeared. In their early days they were devoted chiefly to political effort during campaigns and at elections, and may do something along those lines now. At present, however, their principal aim is the study of civic problems and the giving of assistance in the solution of these problems as they apply specifically to the community in which they live. This is a practical, useful work which deserves the commendation of all who believe in the college man as a possible power in the world, and in the solution of civic problems as one of the mightiest agencies for the improvement of the conditions of life and the progress of the race.

College men need something of this sort during their undergraduate life. They learn many things theoretically and are filled with a fine enthusiasm to do things, and it is well for them also to learn some things practically and do some things as an outlet for their enthusiasm. By this process they will be gaining practical experience which will be of great value as they go out into the world to make their way for themselves and will be better prepared for the activities which will be their lot when college days are over. It is well, too, to begin early to devote thought and time and effort to civic duties and to learn that these are a part of the proper life of every one who has a desire to make the most of himself and do the most good he can in the place where he is put or plants himself. The existence of these college clubs is therefore a hopeful evidence that the civic duties of the future will be performed intelligently and faithfully by college-bred men and that these men of experience and intelligence will have a large part in solving the civic problems of the days to come.

Acting under a general law proposed by the legislature, two cities of New Jersey are to vote during the present month on the question of a commission form of government. The law allows cities to vote on the question whenever a petition representing 30 per cent of the ballots cast at the last previous general election is filed with the city clerk. In Trenton and Bayonne the requisite number of names has been secured, the matter is being discussed in Jersey City, Elizabeth, Passaic, Plainfield and Hoboken, and it is expected that within a few days enough signers will also be secured in those cities to hold the special elections to vote on the proposed change.

The famous Harvard Class Day tree, which has been a factor in the parting of many classes of graduates, is to be cut down. It is an elm, one of the oldest in the college yard, and estimated to be fully 200 years old. It has been attacked by the elm-leaf beetle and is no longer a thing of beauty. Many regrets will accompany its destruction.

Postmaster General Hitchcock, having tried the postal savings banks in towns and smaller cities, is to extend them to the large cities, branches to be opened in New York and Boston July 1. He proposes now to enlarge the system by 450 postoffices a week.

Chicago had the hottest day of the year Sunday, the thermometer rising to 96 degrees, and three deaths from the heat being reported. In Newport it was another of those rare June days which seem to reach perfection.

There is no doubt about President Taft's earnestness and sincerity in favor of reciprocity with Canada.

The college Commencements are commencing.

HONORS FOR SPECIAL AMBASSADOR HAMMOND.

The arrival in London of John Hays Hammond, America's special ambassador for King George's coronation, has been anticipated by Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador, who has arranged for presenting him to the king at the earliest possible moment and for obtaining for him immediate courtesies from the three court officials appointed to minister to his comfort and promote the success of the special embassy. His first week will be a comparatively quiet one, but he will probably go to Ascot, and when the coronation octave opens he will have every hour filled until the Pilgrims honor him at a complimentary dinner. The acceptance of the chairmanship at that banquet by Arthur J. Balfour has given great satisfaction to the American members, all of whom remember how useful was the service rendered by him to the Washington government at the opening of the war with Spain in defeating the meddlesome intrigues of continental mediation.

No seats are available for the service at Westminster Abbey. It is not likely that more than a dozen Americans, apart from the embassies and the eight correspondents of the New York and Chicago press, will obtain seats. Charles P. Taft will be specially favored in this respect, and Andrew Carnegie and J. Pierpont Morgan can have places if they desire them, but 99 out of 100 applicants have no chance at all for admission. The majority of American visitors, after finding out that the royal processions alone are within their range, will start for the Continent or for motor tours in the United Kingdom.

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

Rev. J. Sturgis Pearce preached the morning sermon at St. Paul's on Whitsunday from St. John XVI:12: "I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now." Mr. D. Archie Chase sang a solo, "I heard the Voice of Jesus say."

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Underwood of Middletown have been guests of their daughter, Mrs. Alton Sherman.

Mr. George Davis has secured a position on steamer Hurricane.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pierce, the latter formerly Miss Zoe Clarke, who have been living since their marriage about a year ago with Mrs. Pierce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Clarke of Portsmouth, are building a bungalow in Tiverton, near the home of his parents and will soon move into it. Mr. Pierce has had a position as bookkeeper in one of the Fall River mills for some time.

Mrs. Clara Rose, who has been keeping house for her cousin, Mrs. Gertrude Dimond of Bristol, during a fortnight's absence on a visit, has returned with her daughter to Portsmouth, being as yet unable to find a tenement in Bristol. They are guests for the present of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dale.

The Young People's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church met with Mrs. William Lawrence Saturday afternoon. Fifteen were present and spent the afternoon sewing and socially. The hostess served fancy crackers, cake and lemonade.

Ferryboat Newport left Stone Bridge Saturday for St. John, N. B.

About a dozen new houses, some of considerable pretensions, are in process of erection at Island Park and its outskirts. All the Park buildings and fences have received a fresh coat of deep yellow paint, matching that on the trolley cars. The grass and trees are receiving careful attention and when the flags are flying the Park has quite a festive appearance.

One of the conductors on the trolley cars between Fall River and the Stone Bridge took 1,690 fares on one day last week. That did not represent the day's income from that car, because he did not run all the trips.

Mrs. B. D. Littlefield and her daughter, Miss Susie Littlefield, have returned after spending a fortnight with a younger daughter in Swansea.

The fund to re-cover the cushions at the Friends' Church amounts to $50. The work is being done at Mrs. George S. Sherman's house by the committee—Mrs. Sherman, Mrs. Eunice A. Greene and Mrs. Frederick W. Holman.

Mr. William B. Anthony gave a surprise party to his wife Saturday evening in honor of her birthday. There were 22 present, the only ones from out of town being Miss Alice Clifton and Mr. Joseph Clifton of Fall River. Games were played and instrumental and vocal selections given, the latter by Mr. Clifton. Sandwiches, ice cream, cake, coffee and confectionery were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Clarke spent Sunday in New Bedford.

Mrs. Henry P. Grinnell of Fall River has been visiting in Portsmouth.

Miss Mollie Smith, who has been spending the winter in New York, is at "Lemont Farm," guest of her sister, Mrs. Augustus L. Wilbur, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Mott, their daughter Ruth, Mr. Lawrence F. Fish and Miss Isabella Fish went to New Bedford Saturday by automobile, to visit Mrs. John West.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith, their two children and Miss Kate L. Durfee spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Carter.

FOR CANADIAN TREATY.

President Taft Addresses Chicago Society on Reasons for Adoption of Agreement.

President Taft addressed the Western Economic Society in Chicago Saturday night on the Canadian reciprocity agreement and during his remarks said:

I always feel an impatience, perhaps an unreasonable one, in having to argue the question of schedules with reference to the advantage of the reciprocity agreement with Canada, because it seems to me that the reasons for adopting it are deeper and wider than are to be found in comparison of percentages and rates with respect to special localities and special businesses.

The general conditions are these: We have a people numbering ninety millions, occupying the best part of the North American continent, with the widest variety of products and with an unexcelled fertility of soil. To the north of us are a people just like ourselves, in descent, in wealth per capita, in education, in traditions, in ambitions and aspirations. They have a country nearly equal to ours in area, not so fertile generally, and certainly not so rich in the wide variety of agricultural products. There are seven millions of people there. With them we have a trade of $325,000,000 a year. We export to them $225,000,000 a year. If we deduct from our exports to Germany, which is nearly twice as populous as Canada, the value of cotton and the copper that we send there, it will be found that we export more of our manufactures and agricultural products to Canada than we do to Germany, and that England is the only foreign customer we have that takes more of our goods than this comparatively small population of Canada.

If that be true, and Canada continues to grow, what may we expect to sell her if we reduce the tariff wall, introduce, as nearly as we can, free trade, and she increases her population from seven millions to thirty millions? Shall we not be flying in the face of Providence to maintain a wall between us and such a profitable market as she will furnish us? The conditions between Canada and the United States are the same in point of labor cost, the point of cost of living, in point of the general conditions prevailing in both countries. If either country has the advantage the United States has it, and yet for both opening of the markets of each to the other is certain to introduce a measure of prosperity that we have never seen equalled in the trade between the two countries.

I do not advocate this treaty in view of its benefit to the United States alone, but because I am sure it will be beneficial to Canada also. If I did not think so my earnestness and enthusiasm for the treaty would be much abated; not that I have as much interest in the people of Canada as I have in the people of the United States—I haven't reached that altruistic point—but because no such agreement can become permanent unless it does result in the common benefit to both countries; and if this were a one-handed arrangement, if all the benefits were to accrue to the United States and none to Canada, then, as the treaty might be repealed at any time, we could look forward to its early abrogation by the Canadian authorities.

It is because I am confident it will be seen on both sides to be a statesmanlike measure, one looking to the beneficial interests to both parties to the contract, that I so urgently press its adoption upon the Congress and the people of the United States.

DECORATIONS FOR THE CORONATION.

[London Cable to New York Tribune.]

Carpenters and decorators will have no holidays these days, since an immense amount of work remains unfinished for the coronation. The columns surmounted with angels and griffins in Whitehall are more effective than decorations at any previous coronation, and masts with gilt crowns, evergreen garlands and red caps, seen in Piccadilly, St. James's street, the Strand and other thoroughfares, already offer promise of an artistic spectacle. The masts and columns are linked together by wire cables, with electric globes, and will supply a basis for the best scheme of illumination ever seen in London.

New Zealand's and other archways are nearly finished, but the draperies will be kept back until coronation week. In Westminster the decorations are costing $13,000 a mile, or more than $7 a yard, and will include ten thousand lamps in that distance.

The Abbey is still filled with carpenters and litter, but the work remaining unfinished is chiefly concerned with decoration.

The knights of the various orders have not yet obtained permission to wear their mantles and enrich the scene with brilliant color, but even without this innovation the coronation promises to be more magnificent than the last one.

The second day's procession, for which contingents of over-sea troops are now coming in, will be imposing. The imperial pageant, one and a half miles long, with the Indian princes and the colonial premiers as the central figures, and the splendid cavalcade of home and colonial guards, the envoys of foreign powers and princes from the continent, will be spectacular in the extreme.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, June 5, 8 A. M.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Showers tonight and probably Tuesday; moderate, easterly to southerly winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

There is a great deal of cloudiness and unsettled weather in the eastern and northern portions of the country and there have been scattered showers during the past 12 to 24 hours in New York state and thence westward through the Lake region and upper Mississippi valley to the northern Rocky mountain region. The weather is fair in the extreme southern and western portions of the country. The pressure is above the normal in the extreme northeast, near the normal in the Gulf states, and above the normal in the Northwest. A depression overlies the Dakotas and Assiniboia. A minor depression of weak intensity prevails over the lower Lake region. The temperature remains above the normal in the great central valleys. Along the Atlantic slope, in the Rocky mountain region, and on the Pacific slope the temperature is generally not far from the seasonal average. In New York at 8 a. m. the temperature was 62, Washington 66, Jacksonville 76, St. Louis 80, Chicago 70, St. Paul 60, Kansas City 78, Des Moines 72, Denver 62, San Francisco 48 and Portland, Ore., 46.

ASSIGNED FOR SATURDAY.

Mrs. Walker's Motion for Temporary Allowance Set for Hearing.

Channing Church Fund Case Sent to a Master and Many Entries Made.

Judge Stearns opened the June session of the superior court for Newport county at 11:15 this morning. Deputy Sheriff King made the usual string of proclamations, including the injunction to keepers of prisons to make complete reports of prisoners, with time and cause of commitment. There was a good attendance of members of the bar and they evinced an unusual eagerness of manner.

Cases were assigned for trial, "three days" for some days of the coming three weeks' session. Cases on the docket for the day were called. Nothing was said about the Washington Street boulevard.

Cassler vs. Mitchell was set for trial June 15.

Richard W. Sears vs. Henry P. Walker was set for June 19, Mr. Sullivan, counsel for plaintiff, agreeing to give surety for costs.

John J. Carr et al vs. Timothy F. Coppinger et al. was set for June 8.

Angldile Computing Scale Company vs. Manuel Ferreira, alias, June 19.

Susan W. Swinburne, executrix, vs. George W. Swinburne, Jr., June 7.

Jose M. De Souza vs. Jose M. De Souza, June 12.

Walter Sherman vs. The Leddy Company, June 7.

E. A. Brown Company vs. Maurice Butler, June 12.

Mary Andrews vs. Daniel P. Murphy, June 19.

Duckworth vs. McQueen (motion), July 3.

Emma K. Scott vs. Joseph Dunn (hearing), first day of the October session.

Nigus vs. Block Island Electric Lighting & Transportation Company, June 16.

Richard Walsh vs. Old Colony Street Railway Company, June 19.

Albert H. Olmstead vs. Baker Motor Vehicle Company, June 23.

Jacob Mirman vs. Samuel Berman, June 19.

First Baptist Society vs. Wetherell, probably Saturday.

Samuel Horowitz vs. Harry Teitz, changed to June 15.

All the criminal docket was made in order for Wednesday at 9:30 a. m.

The case of Frank F. Nolan vs. Aurel Batonyi was called. Mr. Nolan was present for himself. Mr. Newton Adams explained that he had withdrawn from the case and supposed Mr. Batonyi, who has all the papers, is his own counsel. Not wishing to leave him in the lurch, Mr. Adams had cabled to him, and the case was passed, pending a reply to the cable. Mr. Nolan did not wish to push it unduly.

The Walker divorce case was on again, but only for a brief and quiet session. It was in regard to Mrs. Walker's motion for a temporary allowance for maintenance of herself and children, and for counsel fees. Mr. Sheffield thought the matter would come more properly before Judge Baker, who heard the main case. Mr. Burdick was taken by surprise by this suggestion, as he had been notified to appear today and was ready to proceed. His client, Mr. Walker, was present, having come a long distance, and there were also witnesses from without the state. The court asked how far Mr. Walker had come and was told from New Hampshire.

The court thought the fact of Judge Baker's having heard the case made considerable difference. It is better for one judge to hear all of the case. He would not consider it quite courteous to Judge Baker to hear this matter, without consulting him, nor could he assign the case, for Judge Baker to hear. He was perfectly willing to hear the matter if Judge Baker so desired.

Mr. Barney did not see that it mattered, in hearing a motion for a temporary allowance; he was here at great inconvenience, and would like to proceed.

The court differed with Mr. Barney, decidedly; yet he did not desire to leave the case unassigned. A little later a telephone message having been received from Judge Baker, the matter was set for hearing Saturday at 11:15.

The case of Eisenburg Cigarette Company vs. Sigmund Weiss was heard briefly, on a motion of plaintiff to amend its declaration. The amount sued for is $281.85, and it was for labels and boxes for cigarettes, which were not accepted. The court made short work. He said the proper parties are in court and should try their matters. He granted the motion.

In Norbert Berard, Administrator, vs. Augustus Smith, Mr. Levy desired a trial, as plaintiff's witnesses are about to leave the state. Mr. Boss said the defendant lives in New Jersey and his witnesses are in Canada. The case had been dormant for years and now there is a sudden move when they cannot try it. The case was set for June 19, but the court will consider a continuance if defendant cannot get his witnesses here then.

The equity matter of Attorney General vs. Channing Memorial Church was heard briefly. Mr. Harvey presented it, Mr. Sheffield made a formal appearance for the other side, assenting to the allegations. It seems that Emily L. Bush left a bequest of $1,000 to the church, to be used in keeping the windows in repair. The fund has accumulated until now it is $2,200 and there is no use for the money. It is asked that the doctrine of "cy pres" be applied; that $700 be retained for the purpose of the testator and the balance turned into the general fund of the church. Clark Burdick was appointed master, to investigate the matter and report to the court.

Then the first case was taken up for actual hearing. It was that of Emma C. Francis vs. Thomas Glover. In brief the story of the complainant, who is a colored woman 70 years old, very deaf and, not much at reading and writing, was that May 20, 1909, she signed a paper which she was told was to make Glover her "agent", to collect rents and keep up her property for her. She understood that he was to do for her as her former agent, Lewis L. Simmons, had done. After signing the paper she asked to be allowed to read it, because when it was read to her she had heard something in it which she did not like, but Glover took the paper and she never read it. It is a deed of trust, conveying complainant's property to Glover. By it he is to pay her $15 a month for her support, and allow her to occupy one room in her house. He is also to pay $1000, at her death, as she may direct by her will. Then the property becomes his, free of all obligations.

She said he refused to be her "agent" unless he could do it his own way. She was told she could recall the paper at will, and Glover told her he would give her more money if she wished it (Judge Franklin, who was the notary, having said $15 a month was too little to support complainant). She has received no more, and the property is not cared for; fences are down. She never dreamed of conveying the property to Glover, and repeated again and again that she never knew what she was signing. She had been sick and in want and Mr. Riggs had paid her money, saying he would not see her suffer.

Her story was interrupted at 12:45 by a recess to 2 P. M. The property consists of two houses at 30 Bath road.

ARMY AND NAVY Y. M. C. A.

Bible Classes Have Luncheon, Open-Air and Evening Services at Friends' Church.

The Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association rooms were the scene of activity Saturday afternoon and evening, there being a good number of ordinary seamen from the Training Station who were going on furlough and had packages to check and business to transact before the departure of their trains and steamers, and a large number of men from ships and stations being on liberty.

The usual good attendance at the Home Hour Bible Club session Sunday afternoon made necessary the formation of four classes for the study of the topic, "Can I Escape Judgment ?"

At the conclusion of the lesson the classes assembled in a march to the Friends' church, where in the social room the women had tables neatly spread with luncheon enough and to spare. After grace had been asked by Rev. John S. Kimber all enjoyed the bounteous meal, sacred selections on the phonograph being played.

At the conclusion of the luncheon organ and chairs were carried outdoors and amid the pleasant surroundings of green grass, leafy trees and cool breezes an open-air fellowship service was conducted. A number of familiar hymns were sung with hearty enjoyment in opening the service. James Kimber played for the singing. Ordinary Seaman Monrow Goodman chose a choir of four men—F. R. Wheeler, E. A. Horton, A. T. Truesdale and W. Wolff—to assist him in leading the song service, and when "America," "Bringing in the Sheaves" and other hymns burst forth neighbors all around had occasion to see that something was going on in the churchyard. Rev. Mr. Kimber offered prayer and active part in the testimony meeting was taken by L. E. Johnson, landsman's yeoman; J. A. Oaks, electrician second class, of the Connecticut; J. H. Franklin, of the Training Station; F. Savage, ordinary seaman, of the Montgomery; G. S. Valtses, electrician second class of submarine Salmon; W. A. Williams, landsman's yeoman, and George W. Logsdon, coxswain of the Montgomery.

The evening service in the church proved enjoyable. Secretary Andrews led the singing of various hymns—"Let the Lower Lights be Burning," "There is a Green Hill Far Away," "The Ninety and Nine," and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again"—while stereopticon pictures illustrating the hymns were shown. Rev. Mr. Kimber gave a brief but inspiring missionary and evangelistic talk and Mr. Andrews offered the concluding remarks.

The enlisted men will have charge of next Sunday's luncheon.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—The steam yachts in port Saturday have all gone.

—Mrs. J. L. Putnam entertained at dinner Saturday night.

—Battleship Connecticut, it is reported, will leave Newport Wednesday.

—Mr. Leon Smith has been added to the summer force of operators at the Western Union.

—Mrs. A. B. Kennan and her daughters will return to Newport the latter part of this month.

—Messrs. Henry Finn and Charles Langley took a trip to New Bedford Sunday on tug E. A. Keeler.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Crocker, the former the secretary of Mr. A. G. Vanderbilt, have arrived here.

—Mrs. W. N. Eldridge and Miss Julia S. French have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Wagstaff at Tuxedo.

—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Hunt have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Hunt at Lonsdale.

—Electrician G. S. Valtses of submarine Salmon went to Philadelphia this morning, to visit a friends who is ill.

—Saturday 290 apprentices left the Training Station for their homes, on furlough before going to the ships to which they have been assigned.

—The Adams Express Company had a private car, with the horses of Mr. R. C. Vanderbilt from the Plainfield horse show, on the 11 o'clock train.

—There will be no Newport County conference of the King's Daughters and Sons this year, because of the illness of the state secretary, Mrs. B. F. Raymond.

—F. J. Parker of Baltimore, W. P. Williamson, S. D. Brayton and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Draper of New York and J. S. Curran are registered at the United States Hotel.

—The improvements to the market of the E. A. Brown Company are noticeable. The floor space is nearly doubled, as is the front, and the whole place is very sightly.

—The promise of rain tonight was more than met, the rain beginning to fall about 1:30 this afternoon. The wind shifted from southeast to northeast and from both directions the prospect looked wet.

—Mr. William P. Carr assumed his duties as collector of the port this morning, when he was sworn in by Deputy Collector Walcott. Since Postmaster Burlingame assumed his present duties Mr. Walcott has been acting as collector.

—J. B. Parsonage & Son have sold for George Gordon King lot 47, block B, on the Wilbar Farm tract, bounded easterly on land of Charles Peterson and others, southerly on land of Patrick J. Fagan, westerly on other land of Mr. King and northerly on Atlantic street, to Alexander S. Glen.

—Mr. Whitney Warren, here to inspect his estate on Ocean avenue, is at the Perry House, other late arrivals at the same hotel include Edward T. Lentz, T. R. Ferrall, F. W. Annis, New York; Frederick Landstreet, J. W. Benham, Philadelphia; Harry Carpenter, W. J. Kelleough, Pittsburg; Frank Wilson, E. C. Sidney, Boston.

—Sunday the New England Yearly Meeting of Friends met at Westerly, in celebration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of a Society of Friends. Several ministers were present from Canada, Kansas, Pennsylvania, New York and Vermont, in addition to the regular members of the New England Yearly Meeting. Newport was represented.

—When the City of Lowell was inspected in the dry dock Sunday it was discovered that there was a slight flaw in one of her shafts. Orders were immediately given to take her off until a new shaft could be supplied and notice was sent to Supervisor Gardner, who is making steamer Plymouth ready to leave here Tuesday in time to take the Lowell's place on the Norwich line tomorrow.

HIS FIRST SERMONS.

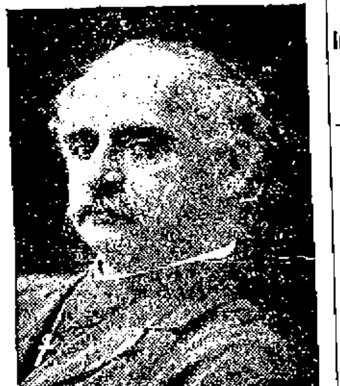

Rev. T. W. Henderson Begins Pastorate at the Mt. Zion Church.

Preaches on "The Church Triumphant" and the Essentials of the Christian Life.

Rev. T. W. Henderson began his pastorate at the Mt. Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church, Sunday, preaching to large congregations both morning and evening, followed by the Holy Communion in the evening. Dr. Henderson and his family are still living in Boston, but expect to move here Friday.

The subject of the morning sermon was "The Church Triumphant," Dr. Henderson taking his text from Rev. VII: 13: "And one of the elders answered, saying unto me: Who are these which are arrayed in white robes? And whence came they? And I said unto him: Sir, thou knowest. And he said unto me: These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb."

The text and the verses which precede it, said Dr. Henderson, describe in glowing terms the happiness of heaven and the glorification of Christians there. It is delightful to think that, however dark and cloudy the believer's state on earth, he will shortly enter the new Jerusalem as the subject of redeeming love and a participant in immortal joys. Such an expectancy has in every age cheered the spirit and reconciled it to the will of God, though that will may have allotted to the believer a checkered path on earth. Hence the estimate formed by the Apostle in Romans: "For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared to the glory which shall be revealed in us."

How cheering must have been these visions of beautiful bliss to John exiled in Patmos! His enemies had indeed power over his body, but none over his soul. Though they had prohibited him from preaching, banished him from his friends and from liberty, they could not prevent the opening of heaven; they could not remove the ladder of communication to it; they could not hinder the sounds of angelic melody and the rapturous hosannahs of deathless spirits from reaching his ears; they could not prevent converse with his Lord, or stop those profound revelations which He made to the banished one. This hope, too, cheered martyrs amid their tragical sufferings and made them more than conquerors.

The text had reference to martyrs who suffered under the persecutions of the pagan Roman empire, and who are therefore described as coming out of "great tribulation," but it applies to all believers who "have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb."

In the evening Dr. Henderson spoke from II Cor. V: 5: "Now he that hath wrought us for the selfsame thing is God, who also hath given unto us the earnest of the spirit." The main idea of the discourse was that religion consists essentially of life united with God. The speaker sought to show that being is more than doing. Beneath all the outward activities and struggles with fellow-men, the Christian's real life remains hid with God.

PROBATE COURT.

In the probate court this morning Mariano Verveña, consular agent of Italy at Providence, was appointed administrator on the estate of Giovanni Battista Modini. Notice was waived and letters of administration on the estate of Sarah Matilda Tompkins were granted to Sarah M. Muenchinger. Notice was waived and letters of administration on the estate of Mary E. Wilson were granted to Nathaniel Wilson. Notice was waived and Herbert L. Dyer was appointed conservator of the property of Julia E. Gardiner. Elizabeth H. Perkins of Windsor, Vt., was appointed guardian of the estate in Rhode Island of Frances H. Perkins and Louis A. Perkins. Permission was given to sell at private sale personal property of the estate of Mary E. Smith. Inventories of the estates of Mary Dynan and Mary E. Smith were ordered recorded.

Petitions for the appointment of guardians of Thomas H., Annie R., Elizabeth B. and Mary H. Oxx, and for consideration of the first and final account of the administrator with the will annexed on the estate of Emily B. Hurd, were continued to June 12.

WITH A RATE OF $12.30.

Increase in Valuation of $498,000 and in Amount of Tax $21,159.

Total Assessment of $622,511 Shown by the Collector's Figures.

After practically a month of hard work Tax Collector Higbee Sunday reached the bottom line on the tax book and was able to announce the total valuation of real and personal property and the amount of tax for this year. The representative Council, at its meeting March 6, ordered a tax of not less than $615,000 or more than $630,000. This reduced the allowance for the rate to a narrow margin, but it became evident to the assessors that the rate would need to be raised above the $12 per thousand of last year. By keeping careful tabs on the gains and losses, Collector Higbee figured that the rate should be $12.30 per thousand of valuation, and when he reached the final figures the calculation was proved, for the amount of tax assessed is $622,511.61 or about midway between the minimum and maximum figures named. As it turned out, a rate of $12.25 would have brought in the minimum, but chances could not be taken on fixing the rate so low.

The figures show a gain in real estate valuation of $457,300 and in personal estate of $40,700, or a total of $498,000. The increase of tax over last year is $21,459.21.

The following shows the assessment on real and personal, the total, the tax rate and the total tax for 1910 and this year:

	1910	1911
Real	$36,762,800	$37,220,100
Personal	13,349,900	13,390,600
Total	$50,112,700	$50,610,700
Rate	12	12.30
Tax	600,352.40	622,511.61

Some idea of what the change of rate means in making out the tax book may be had from the statement that there are 6,113 names on the book and every one must be calculated on the new rate.

DOG MYSTERY EXPLAINED.

Animal Belonging to Dr. McClelland Came Not From Wreck But From Block Island Itself.

The mystery surrounding the dog which came ashore at Block Island during a storm last Thursday night, precipitating a rumor of shipwreck and disaster, was cleared when it became known that the animal, the property of Rev. T. C. McClelland, formerly pastor of the United Congregational Church of this city and recently pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian Church of Brooklyn, had been in the care of Mrs. McClelland's nephew, who is at a Rock Island cottage.

Rev. Dr. McClelland and the members of his family were much surprised when they heard that a dog bearing a metal plate with the minister's name upon it had landed in an exhausted condition on the beach at Block Island. Mrs. McClelland said that several weeks ago her nephew, William B. Smith, took the dog to Block Island for the summer. It is a pedigreed collie, and its name is Witherspon Luddis III. A letter received by Mrs. McClelland from her nephew made no mention of the dog's adventure of Thursday. She believes the dog went into the surf for a swim and was carried out so far by the tide that it had a hard time getting back to shore.

ON BALTIMORE PLAYGROUNDS.

Extensive Work in Charge of William Burdick and William S. Pitman of This City.

Mr. William Burdick, formerly of this city, is here on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Burdick. He is in charge of the athletic work which the city of Baltimore is conducting in the playground plan and has as his assistant Mr. William S. Pitman of this city, who has been making a great success with the outdoor part of the work, Mr. Burdick having general charge. Some idea of what this means may be had from his statement that there were 60 teams in the base ball league and it is expected that there will be at least 1,000 contestants in the athletic games planned for Wednesday of next week. The city has given the use of playgrounds on the parks, of which there are many, and the boys have fine base ball and athletic fields.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. T. C. Shields, who has been ill, is able to be out.

—Count and Countess Moltke will spend June and July with the Countess's mother, Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, at Lancaster and Newport, and will sail early in August for Europe. Count Moltke is minister for Denmark at Washington.

—Miss Gladys M. Burlingame, who is to graduate this month at Smith College, has received an appointment as librarian and assistant instructor in English at the Rhode Island College at Kingston. She is the daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. Burlingame and a graduate of the Rogers High School in 1906.

—Commander William D. Fletcher, U. S. N., has returned from Annapolis, where he attended the graduating exercises at the Naval Academy. His son, Naval Cadet John A. Fletcher, who was a member of the graduating class at the Academy, is expected this week to visit his home here. Mrs. Fletcher will also return this week.

—The arrival of summer visitors has so increased the attendance at the new St. Augustin Church that Father Reddy announced Sunday that an additional mass will be added next week, so that those who attend may be able to find room. Many Sunday were obliged to be content with standing outside the doors and hearing the services at long range.

WOULD CHANGE POSTAGE RATES.

Department Will Make Attempt to Carry Letters for One Cent.

Effort Will be Made to Increase the Charges for Transportation of Periodicals.

[Washington Correspondence of The News.]

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The regular session of the Sixty-second Congress will see a contest between first and second class postage rates. It is expected the Postoffice Department will make an attempt to establish one cent letter postage and at the same time increase the cent a pound rate on newspapers and periodicals, or at least on periodicals, as that was the form the effort took last winter.

The deficit has been wiped out, and the people will be promised one cent letter postage if there can be an increase of second class rates. Naturally there will be a great demand for the one cent rate. It will come from the big firms and corporations and big business institutions everywhere, as a reduction of the rate will make a vast difference to them. Even those who have a large business in second class postage will be interested in the one cent postage rate, as they have an immense amount of first class postage to pay.

The proposition to pass a law allowing government clerks to form unions such as labor organizations have perfected causes conservative Democrats to hesitate. They fear that it may mean disaster to government business if the members of the union should go on a strike. There is also a fear that clerks who may not see fit to join the union may be made to suffer. There has been a change of sentiment on the subject since the hearings began, and it seems very doubtful whether such a bill will pass the Democratic House.

The farmers—real farmers, not agriculturists—surprised members of the finance committee by the manner in which they presented the facts and information relative to farming before the committee.

"It shows what our farmers can do," remarked the venerable Senator Cullom. "There is not a phase of farming that has not been discussed in those hearings. Everything relating to the farm, cost of handling and operation, kinds of seed and soil, in fact, everything that would make a textbook on the subject has been presented by the men who represent the agricultural interests of the country. It shows that intelligence is being used on the farms in the United States."

Discussing John Hays Hammond as the special ambassador to the coronation of George V., a woman remarked: "Why in the world did not President Taft send his brother Charles P. Taft as the special ambassador? He could not have paid the British people a higher compliment than to have sent his own brother as his personal representative to the great event in the life of their king."

That might have been all right, but what the American people would have said about "nepotism" would have filled all the scrap baskets of the administration. But many persons will agree that Charles P. Taft would have been the equal of Hammond as the representative of this government.

Senator Heyburn of Idaho has never lacked the courage of his convictions. There is not a single thing in the Senate or outside of it that he hesitates to attack if he does not like it. He refuses to speak anywhere that "Dixie" is played; he has opposed everything looking to favors to the late Confederacy; he takes a stand on everything and without regard to its unpopularity; he jumps on the newspapers regardless of the fact that they can come back at him.

Heyburn has recently placed himself in opposition to the strict Sunday observance law which is being pressed on Congress for regulating the District of Columbia. It takes nerve for any man to make a stand of that kind.

While Washington was sweltering on the hottest day of a hot period the Senate passed a bill providing for the removal of snow and ice from the streets and sidewalks of the national capital. That is one of the penalties Washington pays for having Congress meet one half the city government's expenses.

The Agricultural Department several months ago issued a bulletin of recipes which soon became known as "Uncle Sam's Cookbook." It has become a very popular publication. The demand far exceeds the supply. Congressman Taylor of Colorado has introduced a resolution providing for printing 1,000,000 copies in order that the people may have all they want of the publication.

TOWN OF NEW SHOREHAM SUED.

Newport Engineering Company Seeks Payment of Claim and Asks for Writ of Mandamus.

Failure of the town of New Shoreham to satisfy a judgment of $869.41, with added costs of $11.36, secured by the Newport Engineering Works, was the basis for a petition filed before Judge Brown in the United States district court in Providence Saturday for the issuance of a writ of mandamus to compel the holding of a special meeting of the taxpaying electors of New Shoreham, and the assessment of a sufficient tax to pay the judgment.

The petitioner, after setting forth the fact that judgment had been secured in December, 1910, declares that efforts had been made to collect through execution placed in the hands of a deputy United States marshal February 24, and that May 15 demand was made by the deputy marshal upon Almanza J. Rose, town treasurer of New Shoreham for the payment of the execution. It is further alleged that Treasurer Rose stated at that time that he was unprepared to pay and that he has since failed to pay the amount due, and the petitioner further alleges that the town treasurer has not sufficient money in his hands to satisfy the judgment.

In asking the court for the writ of mandamus the petitioner sets forth that not having the funds necessary to pay the judgment against the town, it was the duty of the town treasurer to take measures at once to provide for the holdings of such a meeting. The procedure that should have been followed, according to the petitioner, was the application by Treasurer Rose to John C. Champlin, warden of the town, that a warrant issue to Herbert S. Milliken, town sergeant, commanding the latter to warn the electors to hold a town meeting for the purpose of levying a tax. The collection of which would be devoted to the payment of the claim of the petitioner and the added costs.

The town treasurer having failed to do this, the court is asked to issue a mandamus, compelling Town Treasurer Rose to make application to John C. Champlin, warden, to issue such warrant for a time and place to be named by the court and that Town Sergeant Milliken be compelled to post proper notice regarding the meeting and its purpose.

John C. Burke of this city and Francis I. McCanna of Barney & Lee of Providence are attorneys for the petitioner. Judge Brown said that he would order citation to issue to defendants to appear and show cause why the writ petitioned for should not be granted.

SCALES ALL OVER HER BODY

"About three years ago, I was afflicted by white scales on my knees and elbows. I consulted a doctor who treated me for ringworm. I saw no change and consulted a specialist and he claimed I had psoriasis. I continued treatments under him for about six months until I saw scales breaking out all over my body save my face. My scalp was affected, and my hair began to fall. I then changed doctors to no avail. I went to two hospitals and each wanted to make a study of the case and seemed unable to cure it or assure me of a cure. I tried several patent medicines and was finally advised by a friend who has used Cuticura on her children since their birth, to purchase the Cuticura Remedies. I purchased a cake of Soap, the Ointment and the Resolvent. After the first application, the itching was allayed. I am still using the Soap and now feel that one cake more is good enough for my skin. The psoriasis has disappeared and I everywhere feel better. My hands were so disfigured before using the Cuticura Remedies that I had to wear gloves all the time. Now my body and hands are looking fine." (Signed) Miss Sara Burnett, 2135 Fitzwater St., Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 30, 1910.

Anty Drudge Makes a Donation.

He—"I venture to ask, madam, if you would endeavor to spare me something for the Homo for Broken Down Washerwomen?"

Anty Drudge—"Certainly. I'll donate a box of Fels-Naptha soap. Tell them to use it according to directions, and they will still be able to do washing, because the Fels-Naptha way banishes all the back breaking and hard rubbing of wash day; and cuts washday work in half."

Why do so many women who do their own work grow old before their time?

The weekly washing, they will tell you, is responsible for their breaking down. And they tell the absolute truth if they wash in the old-fashioned way.

Continual rubbing on the washboard is so bad on the back.

And standing over steaming suds paves the way for colds.

But the Fels-Naptha way is just as different from the old way of washing as Fels-Naptha is different from all other soaps.

Only cool or lukewarm water needed, in winter or summer, and very little rubbing required.

In a nutshell Fels-Naptha does most of the work itself without human assistance.

In using Fels-Naptha, follow the easy directions printed on the red and green wrapper.

WANTED: 50 MEN AND WOMEN.
To Take Advantage of Special Offer "Money Back If It Fails" Says Hall & Lyon Co.

Hall & Lyon Co., the enterprising druggists, are advertising today for fifty men and women to take advantage of the special half price offer they are making on Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia and get a fifty cent package at half price, 25 cents.

So positive are they of the remarkable power of this specific to cure these diseases, as well as sick headaches and liver troubles, that they agree to refund the money to any customer whom this medicine does not quickly relieve and cure.

With Dr. Howard's specific at hand, you can eat what you want and have no fear of ill consequences. It strengthens the stomach, gives perfect digestion, regulates the bowels, creates an appetite, and makes life worth the living.

If you cannot call at Hall & Lyon Co.'s store today, send them 25 cents by mail and they will send you a package, promptly, charges paid.

Hall & Lyon Co. have been able to secure only a limited supply of the specific, so great is the demand, and you should not delay taking advantage of the liberal offer they are making this week.

LIKE A SUMMER SUNDAY

Plenty of Early June Excursionists and the Beach Lively, Though Not Yet "Open."

Sunday was an exceedingly pleasant day, and as it was the first Sunday in June, when excursionists are usually on the lookout for an outing, there was activity in the excursion line all along—by steamer, by trolley, by automobile. The Mount Hope brought a big crowd from Providence on the annual outing of the Socialistic Labor party, the Warwick came in with a big party on the annual excursion of the I. C. B. U. of Providence, and steamer Islander, of the Seaconnet line, seldom seen here, had an Armenian society. The cars at Commercial wharf were totally inadequate to accommodate the many who wished to ride to the beach. The New Shoreham also landed quite a party who prefer the quiet of the trip home late to the crowd of the big excursion boats.

The beach looked like a day in July, except that nothing was open except the photograph gallery and the peanut stands. There were a number of bathers but the bathhouses were open only for a few and it was a case of finding a chance to dress and bringing one's own bathing suit. There was enough debris about the beach after the luncheon parties had finished in the city pavilion to remind one of a regular summer Sunday.

All over the city there were evidences that people were awake to the fact that summer seemed to be at hand. The walkers along the cliffs and on the avenue were numerous, and they had fine weather.

FOR THE McLANE-VAN DYKE WEDDING.

The wedding of Miss Dorothea van Dyke, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry van Dyke of Princeton, N. J., to Mr. Guy Richards McLane, a son of Dr. and Mrs. James W. McLane of New York, will take place Thursday in Princeton and will be followed by a reception at "Avalon," the home of the bride's parents. The bridesmaids will be Miss Elaine and Miss Katrina van Dyke, Miss Margaret M. Sloane, daughter of Professor William M. Sloane; Miss Gertrude Schirmer, Miss Barbara Armour, Miss Ruth Collins, Miss Mary Linderman and Miss Adelia Pyle. Thomas S. McLane will be his brother's best man and the ushers will be Thatcher M. Adams, Jr., George A. Phelps, Harry I. Parsons, James McAlpin Pyle, Thomas M. Debevoise, John F. Talmage, Frank H. Simmons, Tertius van Dyke, John MacGregor of Cleveland and Benjamin I. Spock of New Haven.

HOSPITABLY ENTERTAINED.

Launches Carry Many Visitors to Battleships Michigan and Connecticut During Sunday.

Many people availed themselves of the opportunity Sunday to visit the battleships in the harbor, the launches which traveled back and forth making it convenient to go out at any hour. Some went over to renew old acquaintances and others simply from curiosity to see how things look on board one of Uncle Sam's big warships. Apparently all who went out to the ships had a pleasant experience for there were many expressions of praise at the hospitable manner in which they were received by officers and men.

Among those who renewed acquaintances on board the Michigan Sunday afternoon were Chief Machinist George H. Gifford (retired), Gunner Jacobs, Paymaster's clerk Nicholas Alger, Mrs. Ellen C. Amato, Miss Nora Coffey, Miss Marie Dring, Mr. Charles R. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Church, and others.

During the afternoon the visitors were entertained with music and an acrobatic exhibition, given on the forward deck. A number of the officers and crew were in constant attendance, showing the visitors about the ship and explaining all the interesting mechanism. A number of friends from Newport were entertained at supper on board the Michigan and the Connecticut.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Colonel Thomas Wentworth Higginson Honored at Channing Church and Also in Boston.

At the Channing Memorial Church Sunday morning Rev. William Safford Jones made reference to the late Colonel Higginson and Mrs. William B. Rogers, both of whom had been attendants at the Unitarian Church during their residence in Newport. The sermon was from the text, "They brought forth the sick into the streets and laid them on beds and couches that at least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them."

Memorial services in honor of Colonel Thomas Wentworth Higginson were held Sunday afternoon in Parker Memorial Hall, Boston. There was a large audience, composed mostly of colored people. The speakers were Alfred S. Roe of Worcester, Miss Maria Louise Baldwin of Cambridge, Clement G. Morgan of Cambridge, Jacob Solomon Gaines, William Stanley Braithwaite, William M. Trotter and Emory T. Morris.

MIDSHIPMEN START ON CRUISE.

Trip on Battleships Will Give Annapolis Cadets Hard Work and Real Seamanship.

With a voyage of 7,000 miles ahead of them, the midshipmen of the three upper classes embarked on battleships Iowa, Indiana and Massachusetts at Annapolis Saturday and will not set foot upon the Naval Academy grounds until they return about August 28, having in the meantime visited Queenstown, Ireland; Kiel, Germany; Bergen, Norway, and Gibraltar. At each of these ports there will be a stop of about a week. The squadron, which is under the command of Commander R. E. Coontz, commandant of midshipmen, started on its long cruise this morning.

This year's practice cruise probably will exceed in distance covered any former cruise of the midshipmen. The trip from Annapolis to Queenstown is expected to occupy 14 days, and that from Gibraltar to Solomons, in Chesapeake bay, 15 days. This means hard work and real seamanship and a rigorous routine of study and practical instruction.

A NEW HAT AND A LOST SHOPPING BAG.

A lost shopping bag was reported to the police Sunday morning. It appears that a woman bought a new hat and took it home, and just before going into the house had the happy idea of putting on the hat to surprise her husband. She carried out the happy thought but did not carry in the bag, for she forgot it where she had hung it on the picket fence. Sunday morning it was not there. The contents included money, a gold watch and other articles. A girl on her way to early mass Sunday morning saw the bag hanging there and thought the safest thing to do was to take charge of it. She did so, and the owner now has her shopping bag and contents back. She also has the hat; in fact, she clung to the hat all the time.

THOUSANDS OF MACKEREL

There was no scup shipment Sunday, but the fish agents did not have a day off, for 86 barrels of mackerel were landed by netters. Today a number of netters are in port and something like 40,000 fish were estimated to have been landed alongside the dock by this afternoon. Among the boats in were the Clara T., Captain Will Faith, with 2,400, and the Wood & Mack, Captain Kent, with 1,400, both catches made Sunday night. The mackerel caught by the netters are all large but the trap fishermen are catching some medium-sized. The scup fishermen are shiping a barrel per man today.

The Fish Agents' Association has been enlarged by the addition of three old members, Captain John E. Gorman came in Sunday and James Ryan and Ike Price both dropped in this morning, so that the roster is full. All were busy today when the mackerel came in.

POLICE COURT CASES.

In the police court Sunday morning a man was fined $2 and costs for being drunk, and two men charged with being common drunkards were given another chance and placed on probation. This morning Tiverton was represented at the station by a reveller who paid $8.20, a man who paid the same for drunkenness, a man charged with the larceny of a swill pail, who pleaded not guilty and was committed for trial, and a man charged with not sending his children to school, who promised to obey the law and was placed on probation after paying costs of $7.30.

SUCCESS OF THE MEN'S MISSION.

The mission at St. Mary's Church, which the Dominican fathers have been conducting for the past two weeks, came to a close Sunday afternoon, with the church packed. Fathers Splinter and Healed congratulated the men on the fine showing made during the week, especially at the attendance at the early morning mass at 5 o'clock, which showed that the men were exerting themselves to attend the mission in the right spirit. Father Meenan was also pleased at the fine attendance, which continued through the week, though many must have been tired before it ended. The mission was one of the most successful ever held in the parish.

Protection! Service! Council!

In every bank announcement the feature is made of the security it offers depositors.

This is commonplace and ... no ... than you have a legitimate right to expect.

Banking is based on security.

Our service extends beyond this ... ment of security. It extends to meeting the depositors on intimate equitable lines, and our advice is at the disposal of our depositors, who are seeking for investment of their funds.

Do not hesitate to call on us in this essential.

This broad policy of co-operation is a new phase in the banking business and marks the first real advance in twentieth century banking.

The invitation to call in and discuss business with us is extended cordially to the ladies.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, June 5, Wall Street—The market opened with Amalgamated Copper 67¾, American Smelting and Refining 80½, Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe 115⅝, Brooklyn Rapid Transit 81¾, Canadian Pacific 237, Chesapeake & Ohio 85⅝, Chicago Mil & St. Paul 127¼, Colorado Fuel and Iron 34½, Erie 31¾, Great Northern pfd 135¼, Interborough-Met. 19½, Interborough-Met. pfd 52¾, Missouri Pacific 51¾, New York Central 110, Northern Pacific 134¾, Pennsylvania 124¾, Reading 161, Rock Island 33¾, Southern Pacific 121¾, Southern Railway 30¾, Union Pacific 186¾, United States Steel 78¾ to 78½, United States Steel pfd 119.

11—Some disappointment was shown over the action of the market after Saturday's display of strength, and there was considerable selling for both accounts after business was well under way. St. Paul, Northwestern, American Smelting and International Harvester were driven 1 point under last week's close, and other stocks a substantial fraction. Subsequently Atchison was marked up briskly to 116⅝ and the rest of the market hardened slightly. Consolidated gas improved 1¼ and Interboro-Metropolitan preferred 1⅛.

Noon—The demand for stocks was lessened today and the market exhibited a slightly reactionary tendency. It was evident at the opening that the volume of orders which had accumulated over the week end was not so large as had been expected and bear traders seized the opportunity to sell. There was also a considerable amount of profit taking. The market withstood the selling after the first set-back and made some recoveries. Specialties forged to the front in the second hours' trading. The accumulation of Consolidated Gas, which went up 2½, was responsible in large part for the revival of pool activities in other issues. Electric stocks and some of the minor low priced shares were taken at rising prices. Brooklyn Union Gas, Westinghouse Electric and General Electric gained 2 points each. At noon railroad stocks were improving under the lead of the Hill issues, which were selling 1 point above Saturday's closing. Bonds were firm. Money on call steady at 2¾ per cent. Prime mercantile paper ... to 4 per cent. Exchanges $191,681,790; balances $9,781,987.

COMPLIMENT TO POLO TEAMS.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mackay Give Dinner at "Harbor Hill" on Long Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mackay paid a graceful compliment to the polo teams which are playing for the international trophy by giving a dinner and ball Saturday evening for them at their country place, "Harbor Hill," Roslyn, N. Y. The dinner was particularly for the captains of the teams, Captain Hardress Lloyd of the British and Harry Payne Whitney of the American, Mr. Mackay at one time played polo and is keenly interested in the outcome of the present tournament. Whatever may be the result of it, the welcome of Mr. and Mrs Mackay to the visitors will be greatly appreciated both here and in England. "Harbor Hill" is on the highest point in Long Island, and Saturday night it presented a brilliant appearance, all the approaches to the house being illuminated by electric lamps. Hundreds of these were hung in festoons from tree to tree, while there were also many lights suspended from the ornamental shrubs with which the lawns are covered. The drawing rooms and halls of the house were decorated with large vases filled with pink roses, white orchids and clusters of American Beauty roses, and in the grand hall were huge palms.

At the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bourke Cockran, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mortimer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Thompson, Mrs. Archibald Alexander, Miss Eleanora Sears, Miss Evelyn Burden, Miss Chanler, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Waterbury, Captain St. George Leslie Cheape, Captain Hardress Lloyd, Captain H. H. Wilson, Dr. J. R. Blake, Justice James W. Gerard, Lieutenant C. W. E. Palmes, Philip M. Lydig, Dr. W. G. MacCallum, Justice Francis K. Pendleton, Cecil Greenfell, Henry G. Barbey, Dr. J. I. Russell, Harry Payne Whitney and Seton Henry.

At the end of the dinner Mr. Mackay proposed the healths of King George and the President of the United States, and the national anthem of each country was played. Afterward Mr. Mackay in few words paid a graceful compliment to Captain Hardress Lloyd and the visiting team, and also gave due praise to Harry Payne Whitney as the finest captain that America could produce. After his remarks he called for the "International anthem," "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," and there was an energetic response from all assembled.

At 10 o'clock others began to arrive with their hostesses from dinners given by Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr.; Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, Mrs. W. Butler Duncan, Jr.; Mrs. E. D. Morgan, Mrs. H. Van Rensselaer Kennedy, Mrs. Middleton S. Burrill and Miss Dorothy Whitney. These came from within a radius of 30 miles, and the procession of arriving automobiles with their brilliant headlights was a sight worth seeing.

The cotillion was danced before 11 o'clock. Mr. Mackay leading it. The favors, made by Sherry, were appropriate, consisting of long sashes of satin ribbons and rosettes of the same material, made up in the Meadow Brook colors, pale blue and white, and for the English team the Hurlingham colors, dark blue and white. Pearich's orchestra played for the cotillion, which was followed by supper.

RECOVERED AT STONE BRIDGE

Pawtucket Automobile Taken from Beach Without Consent and the Offender Sent to Jail.

Sunday Mr. James Nesbitt of Pawtucket came here with two friends and left his automobile on the beach while the party took a look around. When he returned the car was gone. He at once notified the police and notice was telephoned out on the Island to stop the car. It was caught at the Stone bridge in charge of a small youth, 18 years of age, who gave a fictitious name. Inspector Tobin went out and secured him. Apparently the car had been driven out fast, for on the return trip it became stalled near Mr. Benjamin C. Sherman's, at the foot of Quaker hill, Portsmouth, and was taken into Mr. Sherman's barn, where it was left and Inspector Tobin came in with his prisoner.

This morning he was arraigned on a charge of simple larceny, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 30 days in the Providence County jail. He could have been bound over for the action of the grand jury for taking the car without the permission of the owner, but as there is no grand jury for this term, and no other grand jury until September, it was thought that arraignment on the minor charge of larceny would cover the case.

The owner, Mr. Nesbitt, was delighted at having his car back so promptly, even though it was stranded in Portsmouth.

THE DELAWARE SAILS FOR ENGLAND.

Battleship Delaware, which is to represent the United States in the naval pageant at the coronation of King George V, weighed anchor off Tompkinsville, Long Island, late Sunday and started on her voyage to England. The Delaware left the Brooklyn navy yard last week and has since been lying at the naval anchorage off Staten Island.

BLIND BOYS BEATEN.

But Local Y. M. C. A. Team Has a Margin of Less Than Four Points.

Perkins Institute Athletes Make Remarkable Showing in Track Events.

Newport Young Men's Christian Association, 46½ points; Perkins Institute of Boston, 43 points.

This is the result, stated simply, of the athletic meet Saturday afternoon at the Cloyne School field between the gymnasium members of the local Young Men's Christian Association and the blind athletes from Boston. Manager Sullivan of the visitors had said he felt sure his men would make a creditable showing, notwithstanding the fact that it was their first contest away from home against any other than a blind team. Physical Director Slocum is satisfied that they measured up in every respect to what had been claimed for them. Indeed, it was surprising to see how well they did and it was not at all an easy victory for the Association team. The spirit of determination and general prowess which entered into every preformance was noticeable and undoubtedly was also, as it might well be, a source of inspiration to their better equipped opponents.

Some of the Perkins Institute students, it should be stated, are only partially blind. The team sent here Saturday was made up of those who can see to some extent, with the exception of a tall and well built young fellow named Shorley, who is totally blind. It will be noted, however, that he was not far behind his more fortunate companions in any of the events in which he took part. Shorley, interesting to say, was the wit of his team and the way he had of dropping little remarks provoked much humor among the crowd whenever it was his turn.

The star of the meet was Clukia, a Vermont boy and an all-round athlete, who scored 25 of the visitors' 42 points. It is said that this establishes a new record in athletics among the blind. Hitherto the individual record for points was held by a student of the Kentucky Institute for the Blind, who is credited with having won 20 points in an outdoor meet of a similar character.

Clukia not only took first in the 50-yard and 75-yard dashes and first in the standing broad jump, but captured second place in four other events.

On the Young Men's Christian Association side "Charlie" Brown was the heaviest point scorer. Although he arrived late and was not in any of the first five events, he won first in both the standing and running broad jumps, and in the hop, skip and jump, besides second place in the shotput. Eighteen points was his score. Squires was next, winning the standing high jump, capturing second in three other events and contributing altogether 14 points. The strong men in the shotput was Kelliher of the Young Men's Christian Association, who won both those events by a safe margin.

It took three hours to run off the 10 events. First, were the 50-yard and 75-yard dashes, which were run in two trials and a final heat. Six entered—Smith, Squires, Morag, Clukia, West and Connally. Clukia carried off both, though Squires was a close second in each case.

In the standing broad jump six were also entered—Brown, Smith, Squires, Clukia, Stanley and West. The Young Men's Christian Association failed to have a "look in" here, Clukia, Morang and Stanley carrying off the honors.

Kelliher, on whom the Association men had been counting to come to the front in the shotput, did not disappoint them, and threw the leaden "pellet" safe beyond the ability of any one else in the group.

The standing high jump resulted in Squires and West being tied for first place at 4 feet, three inches.

Next followed the three standing broad jumps, Brown's arrival at this time gave impetus to the Young Men's Christian Association score for he won first in the three succeeding events. In the hop, skip and jump he out-distanced his nearest man by about ten feet.

Morang took the 100-yard dash, though Squires, who was a close second, was looked upon to win.

The representatives of the two sides were:

Young Men's Christian Association—Squires, Kelliher, Smith, Hoar, Sullivan, Brown, Wyllie, Knox.

Perkins Institute—Clukia, Shorley, Morang, West, Fanning.

50-yard dash—Clukia, time 5 4-5 seconds; Squires, second, Knox, third.

75-yard dash—Clukia, time 9 seconds; Squires, second; Smith, third.

Standing broad jump—Clukia, 9 feet 2½ inches; Morang, 9 feet 2 inches; Shorley, 8 feet 10½ inches.

Twelve pound shotput—Kelliher first, 35 feet 7½ inches; Smith second, 29 feet 11 inches; Shorley third, 27 feet 3 inches.

Standing high jump—Squires, 4 feet 3 inches; West 4 feet 3 inches; Clukia, 4 feet; Shorley, 4 feet.

Eight-pound shotput—Kelliher, 43 feet 4 inches; Brown, 40 feet 9 inches; Shorley, 36 feet.

Three standing broad jumps—Brown, 30 feet 7½ inches; Clukia, 29 feet 9 inches, Morang, 29 feet 7 inches.

Running broad jump—Brown, 13½ feet; Clukia, 16 feet 8½ inches; Hoar, 16 feet 7 inches.

Hop, skip and jump—Brown, 40 feet 1½ inches; Clukia, 30 feet 11¼ inches; Connolly and Keller, tied for third.

100-yard dash—Morang, 11 3-5 seconds, Squires second, Clukia third.

PROGRESS OF THE SEWER WORK.

The northeastern slope sewer gang is still at work on the Bliss Road main. As they went east from Almy's court the easy digging which they had encountered ended and they struck into a ledge of rock, which they now seem to have about passed through upon reaching Fenner avenue. They have a few hundred feet yet to the city line, which will be put in before the next work of removing out toward the settling tank is begun. It is hoped that no more of this rock excavation is to be encountered, as it is expensive and eats into the appropriation for the system.

KNOWN AS JEZREELITES.

The House of David a Sect With an English Branch, Teaching Literal Interpretation of Scripture.

To the Editor of The News:

The two men with long hair and beards who called themselves members of the House of David are known also as Jezreelites. This name is taken from the prophecy of Hosea, where the word is used symbolically for truthfulness. The prophet seems to look toward to the time when all the earth will be like the plain of Jezreel. Doubtless this is the source of their vegetarian ideas, for on the plain there are to flourish the corn and wine and oil.

The sect is so small that the name Jezreelite is not found in any dictionary of names that I possess. Neither can I find any record of them in the United States census of 1906. There is an English branch of this sect with which I am tolerably familiar. It is to be found in the town of Gillingham, Kent. The men allow their hair to grow to its natural length, but those who work in the near-by shops have it bound around their heads by fillets of brass wire and hidden away under the hat.

This branch also built or attempted to build a large temple, in which the 144,000 saints spoken of in the book of Revelation might foregather to meet the Lord in the air when He descends at the first resurrection. It was strongly built of iron and was a tremendous structure; but it was never completed, for two reasons—first, the financial incompetency of the sect, and, secondly, because the government interfered and prohibited its continuance. It was feared that it might become an objective for the guns of any enemy who might be sailing along the coast. For many years it has stood roofless to the stars, and at length it has been torn down and sold for old junk.

The teaching of this peculiar people is a hard, literal, unscientific interpretation of Scripture which is really a misinterpretation. All the Oriental symbolism of the prophets and especially of Revelation is made to do duty in the establishment and illustration of their doctrine. What surprises me is that men who attach so much importance to the very words of Scripture should be so blind to some words of St. Paul found in 1 Cor. XI:14, where he says: "Doth not even nature itself teach you that if a man have long hair it is a shame unto him," instead of making them handsome it makes them repulsive and ridiculous.

They speak much of Christ's prophecy concerning the end of the age, when there shall be famine, earthquakes and war. The speaker thought that the signs of His coming were in sight. I could not help but think of the early Christians, who were under the same delusion and met with the same denial. Paul first shared in that delusion but reached a saner view, as is shown in his second epistle to the Thessalonians. All the way through the centuries men of wild imaginings have made like predictions, only to be bitterly disappointed. Many times the very day has been set, only to be falsified by the fact that all things have continued as they were. When shall we come to believe what Jesus himself said, "that He himself knew not the day nor the hour."

The speaker spoke of coming wars, when the vast armaments of the nations should be used to plunge the world in a battle of Armageddon. The nations were to perish by mutual slaughter and only those who were looking for His coming should be saved. All the signs are the other way. Never did it seem more apparent that war is fast becoming an impossibility among civilized nations. If our wofully belated Senate can only be induced to sanction the treaties placed before it for action it would go a long way to abolish the infinite curse of war among the largest nations in the earth.

When listening to such foolish interpretations of Holy Scripture I thought of Phillips Brooks, who once spoke of such men "as riding hobbies of moonshine through fields of self-conceit." The look on the faces of the crowd, attentive and reverent though it was, spoke of utter bewilderment and hopelessness of understanding what was being said. It was husks, dry, hard and abortive, and I prayed that from all such mishandlings of the Book "Good Lord deliver us."

WELL KNOWN CITIZENS.

Death of George H. Wilbar and William H. Green, Old-Time Business Men.

The Former an Ex-Member of the Council and Prominent in Fraternal Societies.

Mr. George H. Wilbar, a former member of the city government and well known in fraternal circles, died early Sunday evening at his residence on Greenough place, after a brief illness. He had been in poor health for some time and had had frequent severe sicknesses, but a week ago Sunday, his illness assumed a more serious form and an operation for appendicitis was made during the week. From this he appeared to be recovering quite satisfactorily until Sunday morning, when he began to fail rapidly and gradually grew weaker during the day, death coming shortly after 7 o'clock.

The deceased was a descendant of

THE LATE GEORGE H. WILBAR.

Samuel Wilbore (Wildhore), who came from England about 1630 and settled near Boston. He was driven from the colony by the religious persecution of the Puritans, and with his family accepted an invitation from Roger Williams and came to Rhode Island, purchasing land on the island of Aquidneck (now Rhode Island) and becoming a prominent factor in the development of this island. Later descendants lived in Taunton, Raynham, Bridgewater and Easton, Mass. Mr. Wilbar's father, Francis Wilbar, was a carpenter, living in Easton, Boston, Taunton, Bridgewater and other places and removing to Newport in 1852, where he followed his trade and later purchased the planing mill on the corner of Spring and Sherman streets, which was operated by him until his death in 1888 and by his sons until 1902.

George Henry Wilbar was born December 11, 1842, in Roxbury, Mass., the third child of Francis and Charlotte King Wilbar. He attended the common schools in Roxbury until he was 10 years old, when his father came to Newport, and he had since made his home here. After leaving school, at the age of 17, he worked on a farm and then learned the carpenter's trade, at which he worked for several years. In 1866 he engaged in the planing mill business with his father, and later with his brothers purchasing and continuing it until December, 1902, when the mill was sold. Since retiring from active business Mr. Wilbar had been engaged chiefly in looking after his real estate interests.

Mr. Wilbar actively identified himself with the Republican party and served six years as a member of the Common Council, representing the Third ward in 1901-6 inclusive. He was also in 1903 a member of the overseers of the poor and of the city Asylum. He had been for several years a trustee of the Island Cemetery Company.

He belonged to a number of fraternal organizations, in which he held high official position. He was a past regent of Colonel Council, No. 53, Royal Arcanum; past noble grand of Excelsior Lodge, No. 49, I. O. O. F.; a member of Aquidneck Encampment and Esther Rebekah Lodge of Odd Fellows, past master workman of Ocean Lodge, No. 7, Ancient Order of United Workmen and a member of Miantonomi Council, Order of the Golden Cross and of Weenat Shassilt Tribe of Red Men. Formerly he was a member of the United American Mechanics. For a number of years he had been a member of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, and was for some time its sexton.

Mr. Wilbar married, January 21, 1866, Phebe A., daughter of Benjamin Crowell of this city, to whom three children were born—Charlotte K., who died in infancy; Francis G. Wilbar and George H. Wilbar, jr., who died in 1907. Mrs. Wilbar died in 1894, and February 3, 1898, Mr. Wilbar married Amelia M. Fay. The only child from the second marriage died in 1907, in her sixth year. A widow and one son, Francis G. Wilbar, survive, with a brother, Joseph H. Wilbar, and a sister, Mrs. Bradford Guy.

William H. Green, formerly in the painting business, died Sunday night at his lodgings on Broadway, after an illness of several months. He was a nephew of the late George W. Green, who for many years was engaged in the business in the store on the corner of Thames street and Swinburne & Peckham wharf, on what is now a portion of the site of The Daily News building. William H. Green was for a number of years with his uncle and after the latter's death formed with William H. Durfee the firm of W. H. Green & Co., which continued the business at the same stand until the building was purchased to make room for The Daily News addition. Since that time Mr. Green had not been actively engaged in business. He is survived by an aunt, Miss Caroline Green, and by a sister, Mrs. Crandall.

MIDDLETOWN.

Whitsunday Observed at Berkeley Memorial Chapel—Holy Cross Junior Auxiliary Meeting.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

Whitsunday was observed at St. Columba, the Berkeley Memorial Chapel, by a celebration of the Holy Communion and a special sermon. The rector, Rev. Latta Griswold, took as his texts John XIV:15—"And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that He may abide with you for ever"—and Acts II:1-3: "And when the day of Pentecost was fully come they were all with one accord in place. And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them." After next Sunday the singing will be resumed for the summer by the old chapel choir, the boys of the vested choir from St. George's School returning to their homes.

Rev. E. E. Wells gave the fourth in his Sunday evening series of talks on "Besetting sins" at the Methodist Episcopal Church, on "Anger," Ephesians IV:26: "Be ye angry, and sin not; let not the sun go down on your wrath."—a controlled temper, a great power and a gift of God. The series has included "Selfishness," "Pride," "Covetousness" and "Anger," both sides of the subject being presented in an impartial manner.

The June meeting of the Junior Auxiliary of Holy Cross Church was held at the guild house Saturday. Nearly every member of the 26 was present; also the rector, Rev. F. W. Goudman. The officers are: President, Miss Ruth White; vice-president, Miss Mary Barker; secretary, Miss Norma Coggeshall; treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Brown. The two chapters "A" (over 12 years of age) and "B" (under 12) each have a special secretary, Miss Norma Coggeshall for A and Miss Dorothy Spooner for B. The junior branch is under the supervision of the second vice president of the Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. Phoebe T. Manchester, who conducts the mission study class each month. Chapter A has recently completed a quilt, which will be placed in the missionary barrel soon to accompany Rev. Mr. Goodman to Alaska.

The black caterpillar, which forms in large webs, is proving a great menace to tree foliage. Nearly a dozen trees along Wyatt road have been completely eaten, so that nothing but bare twigs remain. A little attention, when these pests first appeared, might have been the means of preventing their rapid growth and the destruction which soon follows in their wake.

The annual Children's Day concert, in preparation by the choir and Sunday School of the Methodist Episcopal Church, is entitled "Sunshine and Smiles."

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Whitman of Paradise avenue, are entertaining Mrs. Marian Holt of Fall River.

Mr. Philip Eaton, a master at St. George's School and a lay reader, has been appointed in charge of the Protestant Episcopal church at Saunderstown, where he will spend the summer, at the close of the school here.

Mrs. William H. Sisson and Mrs. Kate Bailey, as delegates from the Oliphant Club, attended the annual meeting of the Rhode Island Federation of Women's Club in Providence on Saturday.

After a lapse of many months, during which time the president of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, Mrs. C. E. Delamater, was obliged to be absent to care for her invalid mother, the meetings are now to be resumed and will be conducted by Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Wells until a new president can be appointed.

THE LAPPIN STORE.

COLD STORAGE FOR FURS.

Insure Your Furs Against Moths, Fire and Dust.

To keep furs in good condition it is necessary to keep them in a temperature similar to the climatic conditions that exist where fur bearing animals are found.

The cold uniform temperature of our scientific storage system improves the lustre, tightens the fur and guarantees your furs to last longer and look better.

Furs remodeled, repaired and altered at very low rates by expert furriers during the summer months.
